The project in a nutshell

- Restorative Justice is a hot topic in several EU countries, despite being some policy recommendation, the national experiences remain very differentiated
- Restorative justice can be a tool not only to enhance 1-to-1 restorative practices, but also to develop more resilient communities
- The project aims to start-up a cooperation process to create partnerships for future projects dealing with the more practical side of restorative practices
- Each partner will be called to present and share 1 best practice active in its organization, which later be published in a white book that will be the main project output
